the procedure to be followed in the matter of installation of such iron gates in the residential colonies. This was primarily done with a view to ensuring that installation of such gates does not lead to disputes amongst the residents or cause unreasonable restrictions on right of way through such residential areas.

(c) and (d) During the last six months, Delhi Police received two applications, one from "Janta Welfare Association" for grant of permission to the installation of iron gates at the entry and exit points of "M" Pocket, Sector C-5, Dilshad Garden and the other from some of the residents of Pocket C-11, Sector-III, Rohini in which the S.H.O. Rohini Police Station was informed about the proposed installation of a gate in the area. Whereas the local police has granted the requisite permission in the former case, the other application is pending a decision as the local police have in the meanwhile received an objection from the Residents Welfare Association of C-12, Sector III, Rohini against the proposed installation of a gate.

In so far as Rural Roads are concerned, the Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY) does not cover repairs to roads. For providing road connectivity, while a sum of Rs. 140.09 crore was released to the State Government in the year 2000-01 under the PMGSY, further Project Proposals for Rs. 263.05 crore have since been cleared, subject to the condition that release of funds during 2001-02 would be limited to the State's allocation of Rs. 130.00 crore.

Based on the current level of availability and inter-se allocation of funds among the States and Union Territories, the allocation under the Programme for Rajasthan is, at present, being maintained at Rs. 130.00 crore per year.
